Recital.

The music lovers of Ardmore were afforded a most sumptuous feast last evening when the pupils of E. Lowenstein and S. M. Lowenstein gave their annual recital at the high school auditorium. This recital marks the beginning of the high school commencement festivities, which will continue throughout this week and next.

The numbers on the program had been arranged with a view to pleasing all classes of music lovers. The result was that there was not a dragging moment. The program opened with Shuman's "Traumerel," played by the violin class, including Misses Orie Madden, Frances Graham, Marguerite Wimbish, Gladys Guillot, Louise Scivally, Gladys Basham, Leta Ragsdale, Katherine Adams, Mary Martin, Doris Westheimer, Marguerite Baral, Maude Anderson, Katherine Howard (Tishomingo), Messrs. Valter Poole, Joe Brown, Louis Williams, Ivyl McCarty, Travis Ritter, Ernest Enloe, John Crittenden, Rudolph Helbach and Leon Danbe.

This was a most pleasing introduction given with unusual feeling.
Miss Madeline Colbert gave the second number "Autumn," by Chaminade, with delicate and artistic touch.
The third number another of Shuman's pleasing violin arrangements "Sommerlust" was given faultlessly by Misses Gladys Guillot, Gladys Basham, Katherine Adams, Leta Ragsdale, and Messrs. Ernest Enloe, Valter Poole, Joe Brown and Louis Williams.
Miss Ruby Harrison of Marietta played Chopin's Polonaise in A-major with vim and enthusiasm.
"Serenade by G. Purine, a dainty fantasy, was given by Miss Doris Westheimer in a most capable and finished manner, marked by exquisite technique.
"The Little Shepherd," by Debussy, as interpreted by Miss Raye Campbell was most pleasing. The piece called for the work of an artist and was rendered with expression no less than that of an artist, her interpretation was full of feeling, and carried the message the composer wished to convey.
Miss Mildred Brown gave "Minuet," a generally favored composition of Paderewski's; this was marked by her beautiful, caressing touch, carrying the dainty melody with its variations most delightfully.
"La Cinquantaine," an attractive arrangement for violins by Gabriel Marie, had just enough "spice" to delight all the listeners. The piece was attractive from every view point, each young artist did her or his best, the lightness and graceful ease with which the pupils manipulated their bow, bespoke for days and days of practice. Those who took part in this number were: Misses Orie Madden, Frances Graham, Marguerite Wimbish, Gladys Basham, Louise Scivally, Gladys Guillot, Leta Ragsdale, Katherine Adams, Katherine Howard, Messrs. Valter Poole, Joe Brown, Louis Williams, Ernest Enloe, Rudolph Helbach and Leon Danbe.
Miss Dorothy Dickson gave Grieg's Nocturne, a difficult characteristic Norwegian composition, with true regard for the Norse artist's picture of a night scene in his native hills.
The violin trio, Hayden's Andante from Surprise Symphony No. 5, deserves special mention for the exquisite manner in which it was rendered by Miss Doris Westheimer, Miss Marguerite Baral and Mr. Ernest Enloe.
Miss Francis Gorman played Wagner's March from Tannhauser in a most creditable manner, with delightful accuracy and beautiful touch, showing an artistic temperament and appreciation for Wagner's most universally admired composition.
Miss Marguerite Baral gave the second violin solo on the program, "Air Varié" by Charles Dancie, in a most finished style.
Presto (Moonlight Sonata) a romantic number from Beethoven, was given with ease and grace by Miss Joye Moore. Her interpretation was equal to that given by one with years' more training and many years more work.
Miss Marguerite Noble gave a heavy Grieg number, Allegretto and Presto from Concerto in A-minor, with E. Lowenstein taking the orchestral part on second piano. This beautiful concerto embraced all the moods only Grieg could express, these were most capably interpreted by Miss Noble and Mr. Lowenstein.
The orchestra of twenty-five members concluded the evening's program with two numbers in so creditable a manner as to elicit rounds of applause from the large audience present.

Browning Class.

Mrs. Barry's Browning Class will meet Saturday afternoon at the high school auditorium. This is to be an open meeting, and each member may invite two guests. Mrs. Barry will lecture on George Bernard Shaw, the great Irish playwright, critic and philosopher, and his remarkable play "Man and Superman." The lecture begins at 2:30.

Third Ward Mothers' Club.

The Mothers of the Third Ward who have articles for Friday's reception will kindly have same at the building by 2:30 Friday. The seventh and eighth grade pupils have entered into the plans for this entertainment with zeal and enthusiasm and have arranged an entertaining program.

Philharmonic Open Session.

The Mid-May musical festival will be given this evening by the Philharmonic Club at the Elks Home. A reception will be enjoyed before the program, which begins at 8:30 p. m.

Each active club member has the privilege of inviting three guests; each associate member may ask two.

First Ward Mothers' Club.

The meeting for the First Ward Mothers Club promises to be one of unusual interest to every school patron. The program begins at 3:30 and will be followed by an informal reception.

CONVICTS ALL CAPTURED

Last Two of Ten Who Escaped at Granite, Under Arrest.

Oklahoma City, May 19.—All the ten convicts who escaped from the state reformatory at Granite last Sunday night, have been recaptured, the last two being taken by officers Saturday night near Coopertown, Okla.

The last prisoners captured had taken refuge in the Wichita mountains. They entered a house and took two suits of clothes and then stole two horses which they rode for several miles and then abandoned. Blood hounds were placed on their trail and finally ran them up a tree where the posse captured them. Warden Clyde Reed of the reformatory personally led the posse and took the convicts back to the reformatory in an automobile.

Aeschylus at Syracuse.

For four days in April dramas of the Athenian tragic poet Aeschylus were performed in the old Greek theater at Syracuse, in eastern Sicily. Aeschylus has long been popular in Syracuse. Twenty-three centuries ago Athenian prisoners taken in the great defeat before that city, and sold as slaves after the custom of the time, earned their freedom by reciting the verses of their great poet. Perhaps some of the men thus set at liberty organized a company and acted "Prometheus Bound" or "The Persians" in the same theater where the same plays will be presented next spring. The poet who is held in favor for 2,300 years in one place cannot complain of public fickleness.

Tales of Tennyson.

The London Times at two cents would have relieved Tennyson of one of the minor annoyances of his daily life. Lady Taylor once took a friend to see the poet and was rather coldly received. On Lady Taylor rallying him on his manner, he said: "Madam, I am a poor man, and as I can't afford to buy the Times I have it from the stationer. He charges me two cents for it, which entitles me to keep it an hour. Why will people select just that hour to come and call on me?"

Censor Bans Costly Film.

G. A. Redford, the British censor of films, who was formerly censor of plays, has banned the cinema version of Laurence Cowen's drama, "The World, the Flesh and the Devil." The film cost $50,000 to produce and hundreds of contracts have been made for its exhibition in London and the provinces, while foreign rights have been secured for the film to be shown on the continent, in America, India, and even as far away as Siam and Japan. Redford allowed the production of the play, but held that a scene depicting a young girl's betrayal was objectionable in the film.

Justice for Little Men.

"These people say they were not a trust," said George K. Service, the noted Denver lawyer, apropos of a convicted corporation. "Well, trust or no, the outside dealer got about as much justice at their hands as the little man got in the theater."
"A big, fat man at the theater sat on his overcoat. Thus the little man behind him could not see at all."
"I can't see anything, mister," said the little man plaintively, touching the big man on the shoulder.
"Can't see anything, hey?"
"No, sir, I can't see a thing."
"Well, then, I'll fix you up. Just keep your eye on me and laugh when I do."

Costly British Sport.

An expert has calculated that, including the personal expenses connected with the game incurred by the hundreds of thousands of amateurs, and by the wealthy professional clubs, together with the interest paid on shares and the gate money of the millions of spectators, British football costs about seven millions of money annually.

May Refuse Liquor Shipments.

Child Labor Law.

Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' League, told the congressional committee inquiring into child labor that she believes that more children under sixteen are working today in dangerous occupations than there were when, thirty years ago, she began her work to get better legislation for the protection of the young. A national law is needed, she said. Of course, she said, it is to be understood that the child labor bill forbids the employment in any capacity of all children under the age of fourteen.

Negro Boy Killed.

Idabel, Okla., May 19.—Mose Washington, 15-year old negro boy, was killed by a playmate at Shawneetown, west of Idabel, yesterday. The boys were playing with a target rifle supposed to be unloaded.

PAROLED TO SUPPORT FAMILY.

Gov. Cruce Releases Convict Whose Wife and Children Are Destitute.

Oklahoma City, May 19.—That he might support his invalid wife and four children, who are said to be in destitute circumstances, C. G. McKee, who in September, 1913, began serving a two years' sentence for embezzlement was paroled from the state penitentiary by Governor Cruce. McKee was sentenced from Cherokee county. His wife recently underwent three major surgical operations.

Governor Cruce also paroled Jess Shanks, sentenced from Sequoyah county to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of assault to kill.

Slow Death.

In a certain literary club years ago one of the members, in proposing the name of a candidate for membership, mentioned, among his qualifications, that he could speak several dead languages. To this an opponent replied that he never heard the gentleman in question speak but one language, and he murdered that as he went along.—Christian Register.

You can't stop me. I am going to join the Moose before the charter closes. $5.00 charter membership.
